top tier talent

I help support healing, hope & resiliency.

What is your name and position at Thompson?

My name is Edtricia Brown-Curry. I am a Quality Improvement Specialist working in the Performance & Quality Improvement Department.

What 'superpower' do you bring to this role?

The superpower I bring to my role is developing and strengthening relationships with people. I believe that "iron sharpens iron" and whether the person is a client, leader, or peer, in order for me or anyone to grow, interacting with people will make that happen. We grow in community, not isolation.

What's your favorite thing about the Thompson culture?

I love that Thompson continues to expand as an organization. There are programs not only in North Carolina, but South Carolina and Florida. Thompson has a continuous drive for progress, which means more clients will be served. Serving others is so much bigger than ourselves.

What are you most proud of about your work at Thompson?

I am most proud of having several opportunities to spend time with the residential clients. In my role, I get the awesome opportunity to interview and interact with our youth. When talking to two youth who were aging out of the residential program, I was able to encourage them to pursue their dreams. One youth had dreams of becoming a nurse and the other a forensic scientist. It was an honor to engage in a conversation with them.

If you could sum up your employment with Thompson with a quote - what would it be?

"Try to be a rainbow in someone else's cloud" ~ Maya Angelou
